

Paradise Antarctica

Carol Pun (2008)

Impression of Antarctica

When I was a child, I thought about how paradise should look. After visiting Antarctica, I realized that it was indeed the paradise in my imagination. Neither the beauty, tranquility and comfort of Antarctica can be described in words, nor can the true colour of Antarctica be rendered by a professional camera.

Antarctic animals with human garbage

The first scene is seeing Antarctic penguins and seals wandering around heaps of garbage abandoned decades ago in Deception Island. As part of the historic heritage in Antarctica, the old buildings may mean a lot to humans but they are not supposed to be animals' cages especially in the most wilderness place, Antarctica. I came to realize the importance of Antarctic Treaty in protecting the environment in Antarctica.

Climate change is really happening

Thanks to the advanced technology, air-conditioners and refrigerators keep us cool in hot summers while also keep us from realizing the serious impacts climate change can bring. Standing in front of the broken ice-shelves of Larsen B in Antarctic Sound, anyone can tell that climate change is really happening.